Kingcombe Aquacare Limited (“the company”) aims to provide services and products in a sustainable manner, which safeguards its employees, clients, the public, and the environment. This holistic approach is intended to encompass the present day and future in its protection against incorrect environmental management.

The company takes responsibility for the sympathetic management and maintenance of its working environment; whether on its premises at The Cropmead Estate, Crewkerne, Somerset or on any operational secondary site. Selection of appropriate materials, transport to and from sites, correct and safe disposal of waste, and appropriate and timely completion of any relevant legislative documentation is part of the company’s management responsible. The environment shared by our neighbours, general public and any interested parties is considered in the general operation of the company.

All employees have a responsibility to the environment and as such are made aware of the policies and procedures of the company. Instructions and work methods are periodically reviewed and amended, as necessary, to reflect developing environmental awareness. Any employee can contribute to this process. All employees are encouraged to take positive steps to conserve resources, particularly those, which are scarce or non-renewable.

Information is made readily available to clients to enable them to use the services and products of the company in a correct manner, so as to avoid unacceptable effects on both human health and the environment.

This statement represents the commitment, on behalf of the company, to strive continually to improve our environmental performance, to prevent pollution, and to move towards sustainable development and management. The company regularly reviews its policies, Environmental Management System (EMS) and environmental targets and objectives in line with the ISO 14001:2015 working standard and, at a later date, is seeking to align with the European Community Eco Management and Audit Scheme (EMAS) requirements.

The company is committed to compliance with all relevant environmental legislation, regulations, licences and industry standards and techniques and senior personnel are encouraged to maintain current knowledge in these areas. This enhances the company’s ability to achieve sound environmental management by the application of the best available technology, provided that it is economically viable to do so.

The company communicates openly with all interested parties with the mutual intention to enhance the environment, and to such end this statement is made available to all company employees, clients and the general public on demand.
